General WACOSS News

WACOSS Customised Training

Did you know we can deliver any of our courses in your workplace?

WACOSS customised training enables your organisation to train multiple staff at one time. All our workshops can be delivered in your workplace making it a very cost effective way to upskill your staff, board members or volunteers. Choose courses from our extensive catalogue and request a quote by contacting training@wacoss.org.au.

To view our catalogue online click here, or call 08 9420 7222 to discuss.

New and Improved Online Emergency Relief Directory

Major changes in Emergency Relief funding have made it more challenging for ER agencies and the wider community to know what support is available and where they can go to get it. Thanks to Lotterywest, WACOSS launched the State's first interactive online directory of services on April 6th 2016. Unlike the recently released mobile directory Ask Izzy, this directory is for use by the sector, and was requested by the State Emergency Relief Committee as a means to address the ongoing challenge many organisations have of keeping up-to-date information on other agencies and their resources to support service referrals. The Directory will be integrated with the DropIN platform, meaning that agencies will not need to create a new log in account for yet another new system, and will allow agencies to update their service information in real time.

For more information, or to put your agency on the invite list, please contact Bernie Fisher at bernie@wacoss.org.au or by calling 9420 7222

ASeTTS Keys to Diversity Training Programs

People working with migrants and refugees now have access to two new online resources to help them better understand their clients, and better meet their clients' needs.

Unlocking Cultural Diversity is a six-part program that uses personal reflection, family history and migrant stories to prepare staff and volunteers to work in a culturally aware and culturally secure way with people of any cultural background.

Working Effectively with People from a Refugee Background is a four-part program that uses powerful refugee testimony and a range of engaging exercises to prepare staff and volunteers to better understand the backgrounds and special needs of refugee clients.

The resources have been trialled by four regional and nine metropolitan organisations and feedback has been very positive. ASeTTS engaged Fortis Consulting to develop and deliver this online project working closely with the Office of Multicultural Interests, WACOSS and a Reference Group representing a wide cross-section of community and Government organisations.

Sector News

HESTA Community Sector Awards

HESTA, the leading industry super fund for health and community services, are partnering with the Australian Council of Social Service (ACOSS) in presenting the HESTA Community Sector Awards.

The awards recognise outstanding service provision, advocacy and leadership in improving the lives of people who rely on access to the services of this sector. It is an opportunity to publicly recognise the inspirational work individuals and organisations provide to the broader community, supporting those who need it most. There are three award categories, Unsung Hero, Outstanding Organisation and Social Impact, designed to cover the wide range of professions and skills within Australia's community sector.

Nominations are now open and will close on Friday, 19 August 2016. Winners will be announced at an Awards dinner to be held on Thursday, 17 November in Sydney.

Out in the Cold – Roundtable to End Homelessness

On 15th June, homeless service providers will be hosting a public roundtable to end homelessness. This is being coordinated by Ruah Community Services in partnership with Foundation Housing and St Bartholemew's House. The event will be attended by sector leaders, service providers, members of the community and politicians.

Senator Scott Ludlam from the Australian Greens and Tim Hammond, Labor Party candidate for the federal seat of the Perth, have confirmed their attendance, and each politician will have an opportunity to outline their party's policies to end homelessness in Western Australia. Audience members will also be invited to ask questions, and the media and community members are encouraged to attend.

National 'Vote Home' Campaign to End Homelessness

National peak bodies Homelessness Australia, National Shelter, Community Housing Industry Association and ACOSS have joined in launching the 'Vote Home' campaign, which issues a coherent national strategy to deliver more affordable housing and end homelessness.

The campaign outlines five key reforms across taxation, income security, social housing, and homelessness systems, proposing them as priorities in the lead up to the Federal Election.

Each week approaching the election there will be mainstream and social media activity, events, images to share and a number of Change.org petitions, the first of which can be found here. Follow the campaign here to access updates and material to distribute via your own networks, and join in building a movement of Australians declaring their vote this election as a Vote Home.

A copy of the WACOSS media release in support of the 'Vote Home' campaign can be viewed here. To read the WACOSS media release addressing the cuts to the National Partnership Agreement on Homelessness (NPAH) revealed in the latest Federal Budget, please click here.

Consumer Protection Campaign Against Property Investment Seminars

Consumer Protection WA is leading a national campaign against organisers against spruikers running "get-rich-quick" seminars.

The seminars in question will often teach how to set up rent-to-buy housing deals which offer people who do not have a home deposit the option of purchasing a home after paying above-market rent for a set period of time. Such rent-to-buy schemes have come under criticism from consumer advocates for leaving vulnerable people exposed.

AASW 10, 000 Members Strong Campaign

The Australian Association of Social Workers has launched a campaign to coincide with their 70th Anniversary titled 10, 000 Members Strong. During this campaign, members go into the draw to win one of three prizes valued at $500 if a friend of colleague cites their name and membership number when taking up membership themselves.

ACNC Advice for Charities on Election Advocacy and Campaigning

The ACNC have recently published advice for charitable organisations engaging in public advocacy concerning how they should and shouldn't engage in election campaigning.

Charities need to be cautious they do not cross the line between legitimately advocating for a cause or outcome in keeping with their mission, and any activities promoting or opposing a particular political party or candidate.

If you are likely to be engaged in advocacy during an election campaign period you need to be very clear about where that line is. Find out more at: www.acnc.gov.au/ACNC/Reg/Charities_elections_and_advocacy.aspx

Ellenbrook Crisis Accommodation Centre Now Open

A new crisis accommodation centre for women and children escaping family and domestic violence has opened in Ellenbrook. Child Protection Minister Andrea Mitchell said the new accommodation, together with the Safe at Home Program, was part of the State Government's commitment to strengthening its response to domestic violence.

"The crisis accommodation offers five independent units of various sizes to accommodate larger families and those families with older boys," Ms Mitchell said.

"Women and children will be able to live safely without the fear of violence, and regain their independence."

The Safe at Home Program provides emotional, financial and legal support to families living at the units, as well as to at-risk women in the community.

"The State Government is committed to increasing crisis accommodation options for women and children escaping family and domestic violence, and preventing them from falling into homelessness," Ms Mitchell said.

Housing Minister Colin Holt said construction of the $2 million crisis accommodation was a collaborative partnership between the Department for Child Protection and Family Support and the Housing Authority.

Productivity Commission Inquiry into Data Availability and Use

The Productivity Commission has invited academics, government agencies, private entities with large data holdings (including in finance and social media), organisations interested in data access and members of the community to contribute to its new public inquiry on Data Availability and Use.

An issues paper provides initial perspectives on areas of interest to the inquiry. It contains and outlines:

- the scope of the inquiry
- the Commission's procedures
- matters about which the Commission is seeking comment and information
- how to make a submission

Participants should not feel that they are restricted to comment only on matters raised in the issues paper. The Commission wishes to receive information and comment on issues which participants consider relevant to the inquiry's terms of reference.

Please email advice or submissions to this Inquiry via: www.pc.gov.au/inquiries/current/data-access. Submissions are due 29 July 2016.

The Productivity Commission will release a draft report later this year, with a final report to be delivered to Government in March 2017. Further information is available through the inquiry's web page.

The Salvation Army's 2016 Economic and Social Impact Survey Released Today

Now in its fifth year, The Salvation Army's Economic and Social Impact Survey (ESIS) has surveyed more than 1600 clients across Australia.

The key findings of the 2016 survey, released today, reveal alarming figures which paint a bleak picture of what life is like for our society's most vulnerable individuals.

The Salvation Army is calling on both sides of politics to make poverty a key Federal Election issue after releasing disturbing new statistics on the level of poverty in Australia.

YACWA Survey for Engagement and Co-Design with Young People

YACWA have developed a survey which will assist them in the development of a new project to improve the capacity of the not-for-profit sector in effectively engaging with and determining the needs of young service users, and supporting not-for-profit organisations in their inclusion of young people.

The survey will provide YACWA an understanding of how services currently engage with young people, enabling them to ensure resources are spent on the most informative, practical and relevant tools and ideas for the sector.

If you are a service provider with young people as clients, click here to be taken directly through to the survey.

Please contact Kylie Hansen, Strategic Policy Specialist, should you have any queries about this project.

2016 Federal Election Youth Survey - Now Open

Youth Action and the Australian Research Alliance for Children and Youth have launched a national survey for Australian young people to show decision makers that young people's issues must be addressed in the upcoming Federal Election. It is urged that organisations take the time to sit with young people aged 12-25 within their service and assist them in completing the online survey so that they can be represented.

Take the survey now, or use this link to distribute the survey amongst your networks: <https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/YPelectionsurvey3>

Mission Australia's 2016 Youth Survey and Tailored Reports

After fifteen years, Mission Australia's annual Youth Survey continues to give voice to the concerns, values and thoughts of young people aged 15-19 across Australia. The survey is available now at www.missionaustralia.com.au/youthsurvey.

Mission Australia is able to offer tailored individual reports to any organisation, school or local group who anticipates being able to collect 100 or more responses. To organise this please get in touch via youthsurvey@missionaustralia.com.au.

2016 Resilient Australia Awards

The Resilient Australia Awards is a national program to recognise and promote initiatives which strengthen community disaster resilience across the nation, making our communities safer, stronger, more resilient and better prepared to manage the effects of natural disasters.

Nominations close 3pm, Thursday 9th June 2016. Please enter your own projects, and encourage those that you are working with to enter projects. All state winners will be eligible for entry into the National Awards.

These are a Directory of Inter-Agency Groups operating in Cockburn, Fremantle and Melville, and 10 Building Blocks for Effective Collaboration.

These resources are available from the SWMPF at <http://www.swmpf.org.au/swmpf-projects/coordination-of-wrap-around-services/>

UWA Centre for Social Impact Outcomes Measurement Study

In a study funded by the Bankwest Foundation, the University of Western Australia Centre for Social Impact is undertaking ground-breaking research examining the state of play in outcomes measurement in the West Australian community sector.

The study is led by Professor Paul Flatau and seeks to explore the current state of outcomes measurement in Western Australia, key barriers and challenges faced by community sector organisations, and the relationship between funders and outcomes measurement. Understanding outcomes measurement enables organisations to better understand the difference they are making and the most effective way of supporting clients; provides recognition of the value delivered by community organisations, and strengthens the case for funding of community organisations.

The survey represents the first step towards understanding the state of outcomes measurement in Western Australia, and will inform future initiatives to reduce barriers and improve outcomes measurement. The important findings of the study will ensure that the impact of community organisations in Western Australia is widely recognised.

If you wish to participate, contact Ami Seivwright at the UWA Centre for Social Impact at ami.seivwright@uwa.edu.au.

Free Legal Help for Community Groups

Justice Connect's Not-for-profit Law Service - a new free online service for not-for-profit community organisations - has run its acclaimed Information Hub in Victoria and NSW, and is now helping groups in all other states and territories. The Hub offers hundreds of plain-language legal resources, covers national laws and has tailored resources for states and territories. You can filter the site so that you only see resources for the locations that you are interested in.

These practical resources help charities and not-for-profits better navigate their legal landscape – covering legal issues from how to start a charity, taxation, managing fundraising and volunteers, all the way through to merging or winding up.

The Information Hub can be found at www.nfplaw.org.au.

Pro Bono Dispute Resolution

A wide range of disputes can be resolved through mediation. For a short time Advocare Inc is offering free mediation to not for profit organisations that have a dispute that needs resolution. It could be an issue between Board members, between the management and the Board, between staff members, between clients and service deliverers, between members and the organisation, or any two individuals or small groups having trouble resolving an issue.

Mediation will be facilitated by a nationally accredited mediator and there will be no charge for the service. If there are any costs, for example for room hire, the NFP will be asked to meet that cost. In many cases a suitable room can be found at no cost.

If you have an issue that may benefit from mediation, email to Advocare CEO Greg Mahney at gregm@advocare.org.au or on 9479 7566 stating the organisation you represent and briefly outlining the nature of the dispute.
