

TRAINING: HOW TO START A CONVERSATION ABOUT COVID-19 VACCINES

The community care services sector is right on the frontline with many people who are hesitant to have the COVID-19 vaccine.

Because we provide services to these people every single day, we are well positioned to start conversations about the importance of getting vaccinated.

The Department of Health and WACOSS are offering two webinars in early December to equip community care services sector workers with the tools need for trusted conversations with anyone hesitating about vaccination and to dispel any myths about COVID-19.

Department of Health staff will be present to answer any questions you might have.

WEBINAR 1

TIME: 10:00 - 11:30am
DAY: Thursday 9 December 2021
WHERE: Online via Zoom
REGISTRATION: Online via Humanitix

WEBINAR 2

TIME: 10:00 - 11:30am
DAY: Wednesday 15 December 2021
WHERE: Online via Zoom
REGISTRATION: Online via Humanitix

Speakers:

Professor Paul Effler

Senior Medical Advisor at the Communicable Disease Control Directorate, Department of Health, WA

Assoc. Professor Katie Attwell

Senior academic researcher at the UWA School of Social Sciences, specialising in vaccination policy.

Louise Giolitto

CEO, WACOSS

REGISTER NOW!